CONVENTION CALL.

To the Republican Electors of Pennsylvania:
After consultation and correspondence with the members of the Republican State Committee, and by their direction, I hereby give notice that the Republican electors of Pennsylvania, by their duly chosen representatives, will meet in State Convention of Harrisburg, Wednesday, August 19, 1891, at 10 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for the offices of State Treasurer and Auditor General, for the nomination of eighteen candidates for Delegates-at-Large to the Constitutional Convention provided for in the Act of Assembly approved June 19, 1891, and for the transaction of such other business as may be presented.

Notice is especially directed to the fact that, in accordance with the provisions of the last mentioned act, each Senatorial district is entitled to a representation of three delegates in said Constitutional Convention, two of whom only can be members of the majority party in said district. The electors of each district are therefore requested to make proper nominations for delegates to said convention, the rules governing the nomination of candidates for State Senator to be applicable.

In this connection the Chairman desires to call the attention of Republican voters to the recommendation of the State Convention of 1882, that "they allow the greatest freedom in the general participation in the primaries consistent with the preservation of the party organization."

WM. H. ANDREWS, Chairman.

THE surrender of the fishing boats, which it is said were illegally seized by the Canadian cruiser Dream, should at once be demanded. The Canadian Government should be made to understand that the United States will not tolerate any sleep-walking act.

THERE is certainly no room for complaint on the part of those who desire to visit Atlantic City, Cape May, Long Branch, or any of the intermediate places. Everything that railroad experience can do has been done in order to reach any of the points named in the most expeditious manner and in luxurious and comfortable style. Nothing has been left undone that will conduce to these objects, not even rats of fare, which have been reduced to minimum figures. All that is now needed on the part of seashore tourists is the small transportation fee, the time, and enough cash to pay hotel or board bills.

WHY HE RAN AWAY.

A Schuylkill Boy Got Tired of Being Whipped.

Yesterday's N. Y. World contained the following particulars of a runaway boy whose parents resided in Shenandoah recently:

A fourteen-year-old boy entered the Leonard street police station late Wednesday night and said he was hungry and tired.

"I walked all the way from Philadelphia," he said, "and I haven't any money. Do you know any place where they will let little boys sleep for nothing?"

"You can sleep here," kindly replied the sergeant, "and I will get you something to eat."

He was detained for the night, and in the Tombs Police Court yesterday he told the following story to Agent Finn:

"My father is a farmer in Girard Manor, Schuylkill county, Pa., and his name is George Smith. My name is Joseph Smith. I have three brothers and the biggest one is twenty-seven years old. They all went away from home because father had treated them cruelly. Nine days ago I left home because I couldn't stand it any longer.

Father had a habit of beating me whenever he felt like it. 'Joe,' he would say, 'I think I will take some exercise,' and at the same time he would take down the whip and beat me. I thought to myself that I was getting too old to be whipped and so I ran away. I walked here. At night I would sleep on the cars. I was taken into a house one night and I left there with a good breakfast in the morning."

He was held for examination and his father was notified of his whereabouts in the city. The agent does not know whether to believe the story, but if found to be true the lad will be given employment in the city.

MUSICAL EVENT.

AN OPEN-AIR CONCERT GIVEN AT LOST CREEK.

MR. AND MRS. BROWN ENTERTAIN

A Large Company of Their Friends Enjoy the Selections Rendered by the Grant Band Last Evening.

The hospitable mansion of Col. D. P. Brown, the superintendent for the Lehigh Valley Coal Company, at Lost Creek, presented a magnificent appearance last night as the Grant Cornet Band, of town, marched across from the Lehigh Valley depot to furnish the guests of the Colonel and his very amiable wife with instrumental music of the standard that demonstrates that the inhabitants of the coal region know something more than that which is confined within the area of the dusky diamond field.

It was apparent from the parade of the band in town down the center of the streets and the flood of admirers on the sidewalks that the Grant Band was about to enter into a sphere by which society strictly elings. Harr Van Zait was in the center of the musicians with head bowed down and ear alert. "O'r Dandy" Drum Major (Llewellyn, of course), was in the lead. The strains were delightful and many wished that the train could have been delayed.

On the way to Col. Brown's the band spread itself. Lost Creek has a band, but its popularity, nor the efficiency of its members, has not reached that point upon which "our own" Grant Band perches. But nevertheless Lost Creek thronged the roadway to the magnificently decorated grounds surrounding Col. Brown's mansion.

The grounds presented a sight similar to the scenes depicted in the representations of the beautiful hanging gardens of Alhambra. Brilliance was supreme. The two acres surrounding the mansion were alive with artificial illumination and the smallest burden upon the smallest fruit tree was brought clear to the eye. The flowers in their beds seemed enlivened by the sprays of lights. Chinese lanterns also had a chance to exercise their usefulness, and they presented a picturesque appearance.

After the usual formalities the Grant Band took possession of a large platform erected in the center of the grounds. The band consisted of forty pieces. The selections were rendered in a superb manner and the members were heartily applauded after each selection. The following was the programme:

PROGRAMME.

Military overture Meyer

Also solo by Mr. H. Schoppe.

Good night.

Refreshments were served the guests during the evening and all who had the good fortune to be present enjoyed themselves heartily.

The Shenandoah delegation left Lost Creek at 11 o'clock and arrived in town in good spirits and unanimous in the opinion that Col. Brown and his estimable wife are excellent entertainers.

NOTES.
Shenandoah sent over 100 of her best people.

Pottsville, Philadelphia, Port Carbon, Minersville, Freckville, Mahanoy Place, Ashland, Fountain Springs, Wm. Penn and other places were well represented.

The L. V. train was held over half an hour to accommodate the victors.

O. A. Keim, manager of Lakeside, is a failure as a German interpreter.

The Board of Control of the Grant Band are all jolly fellows.

Prof. Zeltz's commanding figure was the observed of all observers.

NOTES.

A special meeting of the stockholders of the Citizens' Electric Light Co., of Shenandoah, will be held August 25th, 1891, between the hours of two and four p. m., at the office of said company, No. 24, N. G. A. R. Notes.

Grand Army Day in this district will be held at Mt. Carmel, September 9th. The members of the order at that place promise to undo anything of the kind held in this part of the state. Our local post will turn out strong and help to make the affair a grand success.

Are you going to Detroit? If so, the fare for the round trip from Shenandoah will be but $14.25. As the distance traveled will be 1,200 miles the rate will not be much more than a cent a mile. Tickets will be good from July 31 to August 18th, with the privilege of an extension to September 30th.

There are 100,375 ex-Union soldiers and sailors living in Ohio, and only 49,097 are members of the G. A. R.

Detroit expects to have 100,000 ex-Union soldiers and sailors at the encampment next month.

The fight among the different railroads in the West is becoming very interesting, and before it ends people out there will be enabled to go to Detroit for almost nothing.

FIGHT TO DEATH!

FATAL ENDING OF A PRIZE-FIGHT.

SULLIVAN PUTS UP A FORFEIT.

He Will Fight Slavin—A Baby That Weighs but Three Pounds.

Perhaps Another Loper.

Home Dedicated.

Mohongahela City, Pa., July 25.—An inquest was held yesterday over the victim of a fatal prize fight at this place.

There has been bad blood between two miners named Harry Boyd and John Myford for some time past, and they finally agreed to fight it out under the prize-ring rules at catch weights and bare knuckles.

They were both young, strong and sanguine of their ability in knocking the other out and it was a fierce battle from start to finish, with the odds slightly in favor of Boyd, who exhibited more science.

In the first, second and third rounds it was give and take and both men were severely punished, and when they came to the centre for the fourth round both were bleeding profusely.

After a few leads Boyd made a rush on Myford and delivered a tremendous blow straight from the shoulder, catching the latter upon the jugular, felling him like a log.

Myford was carried to his corner by his friends, but never regained consciousness, dying an hour later. Boyd at once delivered himself up to the authorities. He will probably be indicted for manslaughter by the Grand Jury.

County Sporting News.

A number of Schuylkill county sports have been given "tips" that a big cocking main is on the tapis between parties from Mt. Carmel and Danville.

The fight will take place in the vicinity of Brush Valley, the time and place however are kept secret as the boys are afraid of the sheriff.

Billy Jones, of Shenandoah, challenges any man in the county to entangle in a side. Milton Lindenmuth, of Ringtown, is preferred.

Hand ball leads base ball as a popular sport in Ashland.

Mahanoy City has the only regular organized bicycle club in the county. The sportsmen in the western end of the county have the inimitable target fever. Either Shenandoah or Mahanoy City would be pleased to give them a match.

Joseph Wyatt, of Shenandoah, and Patrick Sherry, of Wiggins, will shoot a pigeon match for $50 a side at St. Nicholas today. Match will commence at 4:30 p. m.

Perhaps Another Loper.

New York, July 25.—A report was current yesterday morning that another Chinese leper had been discovered, in the person of Ling Kee, who keeps a laundry at 35 Ridge street. It appears that the story was started by a remark made by Justice Duffy, before whom Kee appeared as a witness in the Essex Market Court. Kee is suffering with some other disease than leprosy, and his face is covered with eruptions. This caused Justice Duffy to exclaim: "Are you a leper, too?" and he added: "The Board of Health should look after you." Kee was at work at his washing to-day when a reporter saw him. He said he had been sick for two months, but did not know what was the matter with him. He had no doctor.

Sullivan Puts Up.

New York, July 25.—Charles Johnston, of Brooklyn, on behalf of John L. Sullivan, called at the New York Herald office last night and deposited $1,000 to find a match with Francis Patrick Slavin to fight for the championship of the world. The money is to be held until September 1st for Slavin or his backers to cover. Johnston insists that the fight shall take place in America. The news that Sullivan had posted the money was cabled at once to England.

Odd Fellow's Home Dedicated.

Pittsburg, July 25.—The new home for widows and orphans of Odd Fellows, at Laurel station, this county, was dedicated to-day. The ceremonies were conducted by the Grand Lodge officers Grand Master W. E. Marsh and Past Grand Elre J. B. Nicholson making the address. The home has fourteen large rooms, some of which can be transformed into wards for children. It is surrounded by two acres of beautiful wooded land. The institution has accommodations for about fifty persons and will be managed by a board of twenty-seven.

Anxious For Drew's Position.

Charles Dengler, head bookkeeper for the Pottsville Iron and Steel Company, has announced himself as a candidate for ex-Bank Examiner Drew's position. Mr. Dengler was a candidate against Mr. Drew in 1888. Senator Keefer, District Attorney Koch and ex-District Attorney Whitehouse are working for him in Washington. They have endeavored to obtain the support of Senator Quay, but were unsuccessful.

See Thauma. She's a wonder. 7-22-1f

A TROUBLESOME GHOST.

A MAHANAY PLANT FAMILY OBLIGED TO MOVE.

From "red-row," a row of houses owned by the P. & L. company and situated on Railroad avenue, opposite the round house, Mahanoy Plant, comes a gruesome tale of ghoulish revels and hideous scenes enacted at the watching hour of midnight within the walls of a large double house. Up to within two or three weeks this house was occupied by a very respectable family. The sights the members of the family claim to have seen during their residence in the house are calculated to make the flesh of the most unsuperstitious person crawl. They say the nightly revels commenced at about the hour "when church yards yawn and graves give up their dead," at which hour there emanates from the cellar a series of unearthly groans and wails, after which there is silence, followed by the sounds of ghostly footfalls slowly climbing the cellar stairs and passing along the hallway. Then they proceed upstairs to the attic, accompanied all the way by a clanking and rustling dragged across the floor in the street. The most harrowing groans are renewed with an occasional interlude of demoniac laughter that would freeze the blood of the bravest man. This is followed by a sound of muffled sobbing and wails, and then the foot falls are heard again coming down, passing from room to room, finally reaching the cellar, where the performance ends with a series of hair-curling sounds too horrible for description. These little pranks on the part of the ghostship did greatly disturb the tenants, and they were becoming accustomed to the nightly perturbations when the ghostship allowed its curiosity to get the better of its judgment. The tenants objected when it entered the sleeping apartments, got under the beds and, huddling itself, applied the occupants upon the floor, and then disappearing, growling horribly and a suffocating atmosphere of sulphurous fumes. It was too much and the family moved out.

Weights Three Pounds.

Chester, July 25.—Mrs. Fields, of Irving Mills, has followed the example of Mrs. Pinley and given birth to a very small baby. Its weight three days after birth was only three pounds. The mother is very proud of her small offspring, which despite its diminutive size, is healthy and thriving. An idea of its dimensions may be gained when it is stated its arms are the thickness of an ordinary lead pencil. Mrs. Fields lives in a pretty country house at the foot of a hill, the location being quite romantic, with a small creek running in the rear of the house.

If the exhibition in Ferguson's theatre building does not give satisfaction money will be refunded. 7-22-1f

Birthday Party.

Miss Nellie Baugh, of South White street, on Thursday evening celebrated her twenty-first anniversary by entertaining a number of friends at her residence. After an elaborate feast the guests enjoyed themselves by playing various games and rendering vocal and instrumental selections, and succeeding in passing a very pleasant evening. Among the guest were: Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Phillips, Misses Nellie Baird, L. Millerchop, T. Kaas, L. Jones, M. Parish and L. Caton and Messrs. W. J. Siscox, F. Asenroley, G. Russell, E. Davis and D. Minnick, of town, and C. Meadows, G. Aikman and C. Pauls, of Pottsville.

Corner Stone Laying.

Trinity Reformed congregation, of Pottsville, will worship tomorrow in the English Lutheran church. A number of the Reformed pastors of the county and the local clergy are expected to be present at the laying of the corner stone at 3 p. m. The sermon in the morning will be preached by Rev. J. P. Stein, and at night by Rev. Prof. E. L. Kemp.
